THURMAN SAID TO HAVE WON ELECTION

County Democrats Give Placer Incumbent Margin Of Victory In Vote

Although returns from over the sixth Assembly district were not available, the United Press reported that on the basis of its figures Assemblyman A. G. Thurman was re-elected in the Tuesday primary election.

Thurman was unopposed as a Republican and for the Democratic nomination was opposed by T. S. Marlor.

The vote in El Dorado County gave Thurman 1059 and Marlor 1014 in 39 out of 44 precincts, while Amador County reported 1287 for Thurman and 559 for Marlor in a complete tabulation.

"Purge" Hits

SAN FRANCISCO — (UP) — A Democratic "economy bloc" assemblyman fell before Governor Olson's "purge" today and two others of the 10 lower house democrats the governor marked for defeat were in danger in incomplete returns from yesterday's primary.

The first "purge" victim was Assemblyman Chester Gannon of the eighth district who lost the Democratic nomination to John E. Cain. Olson supported Cain. Gannon won the Republican nomination but he could not accept it as he was a registered democrat and had to win his own party's bid to be eligible to run in November.

Assemblymen Clinton Fulcher in the second district and Seth Millington in the fourth, other Democrats on Olson's purge list trailed in their party's races.

Worker Dies In Road Accident

John W. Flanagan, WPA Foreman, Succumbs To Fracture Of Skull

John Wesley Flanagan, 63, a foreman in the WPA crew engaged in the Upper Broadway street improvement project near the easterly city limits, died shortly before midnight Tuesday at a Placerville hospital of injuries suffered in an accident while at work about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Flanagan, it was reported, walked into the side of a moving truck being used in connection with the road improvement work and driven by Jay Steel.

As a result of striking the truck, he was thrown to the pavement and suffered a skull fracture. Witnesses reported that the truck driver was without blame and had done all possible to avoid the accident.

Flanagan was a native of Tennessee, born Sept. 28, 1876. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Alma Buck and Mrs. Pat Ruysemaars, of Port Arthur, Texas, who have been advised by the coroner of their father's passing.

The body is in the care of Memory Chapel and an inquest is tentatively planned to be held Thursday evening.

Eagles Auxiliary Held Meeting On Monday

The regular meeting of the Placerville Eagles Auxiliary was held Monday night and in the business meeting it was voted to sponsor another series of card parties for the fall and winter season, opening September 20th and continuing thereafter on the third Friday evening of each month.

Mrs. Norma Humphreys was again named general chairman and Mrs. Maggie Carpenter co-chairman. Mrs. Mary Lyons, Mrs. Ruth Alquist and Mrs. Florence Dames will serve as the refreshment committee for the first event.

Following the meeting games were played and refreshments were served by a committee including Mrs. Maggie Carpenter, Mrs. Violet Potts and Mrs. Joseph Besse.

William Higgins was a caller in the county seat Wednesday from the Aukum section.

Shirley Ann Mason, 6, of Philadelphia, survivor of the deadly streptococcus viridans, blood ailment, offers her blood to save the life of Katherine Alessi, 22, in critical condition from the same malady.

BALKANS OFFER AXIS PUZZLE

War In Air Continues As Hitler Seeks To Calm Hungary, Rumania

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
U. P. Foreign News Editor

The Axis powers struggled to check threats of war or a new Russian advance in the Balkans today but fought on with Great Britain in aerial conflict that sent bombing planes roaring over England, Germany, northern Italy, Palestine and the Suez Canal.

While Adolf Hitler was assembling the foreign ministers of Germany, Italy, Hungary and Rumania at Vienna to solve disputes that led to bloody clashes on the Rumanian frontier this week, the air war against the British empire was spreading out toward new goals and British counter-attacks were hammering relentlessly at Nazi and Fascist supply bases.

Italian bombing planes for the first time raided Port Said, at the Mediterranean entrance of the Suez canal — chief objective of the Italian campaign in Africa — and again struck at the great British naval base of Alexandria. British sources said damage was slight.

New British bombing raids made on northern Italy — the sixth such long distance blows in two weeks. In the British Isles, where the Nazis reported unfavorable weather conditions recently, there were about 100 sporadic night time raids designed to rob the people of sleep and create the "jitters," and there was also a series of daylight raids of considerable intensity.

The German high command admitted that British planes raided Reich objectives again during the night but asserted that damage was unimportant.

The meeting of German, Italian, Hungarian and Rumanian Foreign Ministers at Vienna was regarded as indicating the determination of the Axis powers to avoid a serious military conflict in the southeast during their campaign against Great Britain and possibly as an effort to prevent a new opening for the Soviets in the Balkans.

FREE'S PEAK SCALED BY THREE FROM PLACERVILLE

Three Placerville hikers report the recent scaling of the 10,900 feet of Free's Peak, on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe.

Ernest Oppenheimer made the ascent within the past two weeks and on Sunday last, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Sharman were members of a group which scaled the peak. They were accompanied by Sam and Walter Pirth, of Palo Alto, and Mills Waterhouse, of Saratoga, who are members of Loma Prieta Chapter of the Sierra Club.

Mr. Sharman reports that the ascent, counting time out for luncheon on the saddle, occupied about five hours and that the view from the peak was well worth the climb.

A declaration of their intention to wed was on file Monday at the courthouse in behalf of Marion Dillinger and Ray C. Ellis, both of Placerville.

JOHNSON WINS ON MAJOR TICKETS

El Dorado County Joins Landslide Endorsement Of Veteran Senator

Unofficial returns from thirty-nine of El Dorado County's 44 precincts showed the following vote for United States Senator in Tuesday's primary election:

Democrat—Ford 101; Johnson 1-564; Meredith 67; Otto 32; Patterson 108; Marlor 106 and Yorty 49.

Republican—Ford 33; Johnson 1-088; Patterson 106 and Yorty 49.

STATE VOTE

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP) — Hiram W. Johnson, veteran Republican, was assured today of a fifth term in the United States Senate. He scored a smashing victory on all major tickets in California's primary election Tuesday.

Despite President Roosevelt's comment three weeks ago that Mr. Johnson no longer could be regarded either as a liberal or a progressive democrat, the 73-year-old isolationist leader won the nomination of the Republican, Democrat and Progressive parties.

Johnson confined his campaign to a pledge to do his best to keep America out of war. He remained in Washington and made three radio broadcasts to California.

Governor Culbert Olson's attempt to "purge" the state legislature of democrats who opposed his politics shared interest with Johnson's race in the balloting. Three of the 10 democratic assemblymen marked by Olson for defeat were trailing in incomplete returns for their party nomination. They were Clinton Fulcher, second district; Seth Millington, fourth; and Chester Gannon, eighth. The No. 1 man on the purge list, Assembly Speaker Gordon Garland of Tulare, won re-election over Olson-endorsed opposition, and only six of the 14 Olson-endorsed senatorial candidates won nominations.

Returns from 10,301 precincts of the state's 13,540 gave:

Conscription Nearing Vote

President Signs Bill Providing For Call Of National Guardsmen

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Senate ran roughshod today over a third attempt to soften the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill when it defeated an amendment which would prevent any draft until congress declared a state of emergency.

Under demands by administration leaders to stop talking and act, the senate appeared ready to ballot later in the day on the bill itself. Foes of the bill conceded it would pass.

The vote against the national emergency proposal was 55 to 27 and came 15 minutes after its author, Sen. Alexander Wiley, R., Wis., brought it to the floor. President Roosevelt has signed the bill authorizing him to mobilize the National Guard and other army reserves—a force of 408,000 officers and men—for one year's active service.

The authority extends to June 30, 1942, and the President is limited in the use of the troops to the western hemisphere and territories and possessions of the United States, including the Philippine Islands.

PITTSBURG MOVES UP IN SOFTBALL PLAY-OFF

STOCKTON, (UP)—The Pittsburgh Redwoods today moved into the circle of favorites in the Northern California Softball Tournament by defeating the Stockton Box Company 4 to 1.

The Diamond Match team of Chico swamped Sutter Creek 14 to 1 in the other contest. The Hollister Cowboys and the Lodi Home Bakery, still undefeated in the tournament, will headline the Thursday night games.

Returns From Second District Complete Except One Precinct

Rolland Gust, appointed last January to the Board of Supervisors from the Second District, won election in his own right at Tuesday's primary election on the basis of unofficial returns from all save one precinct in the district.

With Indian Diggings unreported, Gust has a total of 330 votes as against 197 polled by C. R. Tinker.

The vote by precincts follows: Aukum, Gust 10, Tinker 3; South Diamond, Gust 61, Tinker 39; North Diamond, Gust 92, Tinker 80; Fairplay, Gust 23, Tinker 12; Grizzly Flat, Gust 38, Tinker 9; Hank's Exchange, Gust 29, Tinker 15; Somerset, Gust 31, Tinker 16; Pleasant Valley, Gust 46, Tinker 23.

KIN OF PLACERVILLE LADY STRICKEN AT SACRAMENTO

Eugene G. Soule, Sacramento attorney and member of a pioneer family there, died of an apparent heart attack on Tuesday. He had passed his seventieth birthday August 10.

Mr. Soule was the step-father of Mrs. Eugene Kincaid, of Placerville, and of Mrs. A. F. Stricker, of Sacramento, and is survived by his wife and one brother.

Mr. Soule was at an Eight Street auto parking lot when he was stricken Tuesday and was removed to the Sacramento hospital where all efforts to revive him failed.

AMERICAN SHIPS MAY ENTER WAR ZONE TO REMOVE CHILD REFUGEES

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt has signed the bill authorizing American vessels to enter European combat zones and remove children from the centers of war.

The bill suspends provisions of the neutrality law which banned American ships from entering combat zones for any purpose.

Under the measure, the American vessels could proceed to Europe, plainly marked with American flags at all times, if guaranteed safe conduct by all belligerents. But Germany has said it cannot make such a guarantee, so it appeared doubtful that the new law can be used, at least in the immediate future.

Swim Meet Attracts

Large Crowd Attends Attractive Program At Plunge On Tuesday Night

The summer season at the Placerville plunge reached a climax on Tuesday night in a swimming tournament which drew a large and interested audience.

The program was arranged under the guidance of "Scout" Thompson, who has had charge of the pool for the city during the season, and featured clowning by Ed Edelman, Bob Sinclair and Thompson and some fancy diving by Elzear Des Jardins. Mayor Charles Molinari, chairman of the city playground department, in expressing the city's interest in the success of the meet called attention to assistance given the program by Duncan Caldwell, who installed a public address system for the meet.

Marianne Minear lives on the wrong side of the little town of Centerville. She realizes this poignantly when Monte Thurston, her high-school sweetheart, deserts her for the well-to-do and socially secure Sabra Anderson. Then, Marianne's sister Eve, desperate to get away from Centerville because, she says, a girl without money hasn't a chance there, runs away with her employer, a married man. Marianne is snubbed on all sides. Embittered by all this, she becomes convinced that money is everything, and grimly vows that, some day, she will have it. She takes a job as bookkeeper in a plumbing shop and determines to get ahead. Leonard Bailey, a young real-estate man who has been reduced to taking a job as a ditch-digger, is interested in her, but though Marianne likes him, she cannot forget that love has been cruel, and that wealth is now her aim in life. Then, one evening, Monte takes her out and, to her astonishment, asks her to marry him.

CHAPTER VIII
"MARRIED!" Marianne's voice was a whisper. "Then—you do love me?" "Certainly I do," Monte told her. "I've tried not to, but—there's no one like you, Marianne."

"And you're going to give up college and — and everything for me?"

"Who said anything about that?" Monte laughed. He drew her closer and kissed her. It seemed to Marianne that she was again the girl of high-school days, and Monte the boy about whom her whole world revolved.

"This is going to be a secret marriage, you know," he said. "You mustn't tell a soul—not even your mother."

"Not tell..." Marianne was bewildered. "You mean..." "Not for four years. Until I get through college. That will be a record for keeping a secret."

"BUT, Monte..." Marianne could not go on. She was sick with disappointment. Not to take her place as Monte's wife; not to be recognized as Mrs. Monte Thurston; not even to see him!

"Well, what about it?" he asked impatiently.

"I — I'll have to think it over. I'm not sure..."

"You don't love me," Monte accused. "I ask you to marry me and you refuse."

"Monte, I haven't refused but what if — I mean..."

"Maybe what I've been hearing is true," he interrupted. "That you go about with some fellow in a plumbing shop. A — a ditch digger!"

Marianne winced at the scorn in his voice.

"That isn't true," she denied. "There's a young man who has helped me with my work..."

"So that's it. A ditch digger and a girl like you, Marianne! I wouldn't have believed it."

"But I tell you, he's just a friend."

"Prove it," Monte answered surlily. "If you're not in love with him, you'll marry me. How about

LOTUS NOTES

Quite a crowd of our town folks went over to Placerville Sunday and took in the county fair, the writer being one of the bunch. We must say all the exhibits were in every way very good. The booths of the Farm Bureau and the county Grange were in every way good. Coloma farm center and Gold Trail Grange had a good display of county produce, likewise the Pilot Hill Grange. In fact all were good. Special mention of the Missouri Flat farm center booth which was in our mind the best of all as a display of almost everything raised in our county was on hand.

Will Dixon, one of the repair men for the P. G. & E. Co. in Placerville, was in our town on Tuesday afternoon checking up on all the people using the company's juice the past month. Will took Eddie Sayers' place this month reading the meters as Ed is off duty taking his yearly vacation.

Wesley Fox has finished his house trailer which he has been building the past month and early Monday morning left for Sacramento, going by way of Auburn where he will remain for some time before he returns home again.

Loring White, state fruit and vegetable inspector, came up from his office in Vacaville on Saturday afternoon and spent the weekend at home visiting his mother, Mrs. Jessie White. Loring never comes to Lotus to see his mother but what he calls on the writer. He returned to his duties early Monday morning.

Mrs. Robert Fox came up from her Los Angeles home last Saturday and is visiting at the home of Wesley Fox, Sr., and wife, for a time. Wesley is a brother of Mrs. Fox's husband.

Chas. Rice, wife and two daughters, Birchie and Martha, who have been Lotus residents for the past three years, have moved up near Coloma where Mr. Rice is in company with Mr. Gilmet, of Georgetown, will do some mining. This will take two scholars out of our school which will open next Tuesday, September 3rd.

Mrs. Lottie Galleher made a trip to Sacramento on Thursday, combining business and pleasure.

Mrs. Dudley Freeland was up with her two small sons to spend a few days at their ranch here. She planned to return to her Sacramento home Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mrs. Eberhart of Placerville has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Phil Allen, for several days.

Mr. Morris and family of Placerville are moving to the house recently occupied by Chas. Rice and family, on the Reaside ranch. We are glad to say this family will bring to our school a second grader and an eighth grader. Mr. Morris is employed by the General Land and Dredging Co.

Dr. and Mrs. George Oviedo and children and Carl Lavotti called at the Reaside home Saturday evening to say good-bye to the summer. The folks were scheduled to leave Sunday morning for their homes in San Francisco.

Mrs. Gertrude Mauer and Mrs. Lottie Galleher were among those who attended the Saturday night festivities at the fair in Placerville.

Among those seen in Lotus the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bacchi, Mrs. George Wagner, Mrs. Edw. Smith and Bill Staggs.

Gordon Raeside, who has been visiting at the home of his aunt and uncle for the past ten days, returned to San Francisco Wednesday. School opened there on August 26th and Gordon wanted to be sure to be back on time.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lawyer were down from Uncle Tom's on Thursday of last week.

APPRECIATION AND CONGRATULATIONS

To The Voters:

Until I can personally see and thank my many friends for their loyal support in the recent primary, I wish to take this method of assuring them of my appreciation. The memory of their friendship and loyalty will ever be cherished by me.

Dr. Dillingham's overwhelming victory bespeaks his tremendous personal popularity. To him I extend my congratulations and best wishes for a successful career in the senate.

Sincerely,
THOMAS MAUL.

WHAT'S WHAT AT A GLANCE

WASHINGTON - WORLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

THE IDEA of getting President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie into an agreement on foreign policies wasn't evolved by the country's politicians. Just who originated it isn't at all clear. It simply began making its appearance in the editorial columns of a considerable number of leading newspapers about the same time and apparently spontaneously.

President Roosevelt

As for the politicians, they're puzzled to account for it. They don't believe the scheme could be made to work, either. Still, as a novelty, it's considerably, but informally, discussed in congressional circles.

The notion's this: Just after the first of the year there may be a change in administrations. But in the meantime the existing administration has to go on shaping our national course relative to overseas conditions, and our military and naval preparations must be kept going up to full capacity.

Both our foreign policy and our preparations will stop over into 1941. Suppose Willkie's elected. And suppose he thinks that our foreign relationships have been mismanaged and that our preparations aren't progressing satisfactorily. Yet the present isn't a juncture when it will be to the country's interest to have him undertake a lot of alterations. Nevertheless, if he's correct in his judgment that the preceding administration has bungled, it WILL be to the country's interest to have him effect whatever improvement he can.

Could They Agree? So why not, right now, have F. D. R. and Wendell get together personally, and agree on a program, up to the end of December, that suits F. D. R. pretty well and that Wendell can carry on with if he wins in November? The scheme's proponents concede that considerable compromise ing might be involved, but it seems to be their opinion that the dicker would work, more or less.

Politicians don't concur. They say that Willkie probably would be willing to advise the president and that the president would be willing to listen to him, but they're positive that he never will consent to be bound by any of Wendell's suggestions.

Politicians are practical chaps; their view is that the boosters for the kind of Roosevelt-Willkie compact referred to are a bunch of pure dreamers.

Their argument is pretty convincing. According to their reasoning the cry of "Don't swap presidents in an emergency like today's!" is F. D. R.'s main advantage in the current campaign. "Is it likely," they ask, "that he'll forego it by notifying all and sundry that they don't need to give him a third term—because Wendell will go right ahead with all his essential policies? Not by a darned sight," exclaim the practical politicians.

One Viewpoint

Some, even of the most practical of the gang, give it as their judgment that the president was sincere in making it known that he accepted a third nomination not because he wanted it, but because he deemed himself constrained to do so in so critical a situation. But that he doesn't want to be re-elected, having once accepted a re-nomination!—ho, ho!—the practical boys laugh at that proposition to scorn with one voice.

Advocates of a Roosevelt-Willkie liaison do advance on plausible theory. It's to the effect that Herr Hitler deliberately picked, as his time for taking the war path, the eve of a national election in the United States.

Adolf, the story is, calculated that we'd be too busy campaigning to worry over our Britain's fate, that our overseas policies would be in a state of flux, that he'd get what he was after while we were electioneering, and possibly that we'd choose a less anti-German White House tenant than President Roosevelt.

That's what the inter-candidate liaison promoters harp on. The politically practical aggregation, though, laughs at 'em, as idealists.

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK — (UP)—That eminent wild animal trainer, Prof. Jack Kearns, is in our city trying to trap a Baer.

He has baited his trap with 25,000, nice green dollar bills, but so far the Baer has sniffed the stuff in disgust and turned away, growling: "lettuce."

For a guy who is supposed to have a terrific appetite for fresh money, the Baer—Max Adelbert Baer—is going through some curious tricks. Right now he has maneuvered himself into the position of a starving man who refuses a three-inch steak because he doesn't like mushroom sauce.

Prof. Kearns thinks he can put on quite a show if he can trap the Baer. He wants to throw the Baer in against one Patrick Edward Comiskey for a fight in Jersey City. Prof. Kearns began to heat up the wires to Sacramento where the Baer has holed up, offering a little extra sugar—a choice between $25,000 and 30 per cent of the gate.

There seems to be no doubt that Prof. Kearns can lay the dough on the line, for over in New Jersey there are three wealthy Irishmen who would pay plenty to watch Patrick Edward Comiskey get a shot at the Baer's jaw. This Comiskey is an Irish giant with a punch like the kick of a mule. He is still young and hasn't learned all the nice points of boxing yet, but he has so much sockeroo in both hands that plenty of people—including this observer—believe it is only a question of time he will be heavyweight champion. Comiskey is ready to tangle with the Baer any place, any time and for peanuts, because he considers the baer an easy hurdle on the way to a fight with Joe Louis.

But the Baer is being very coy these days because at the moment he is a hot article in the prize fight business. He got that way by licking two-ton tony Galento in Jersey a short time ago—a Galento badly out of condition. The Baer is the same man who took a awful licking from young Lou Nova, who got enough of Joe Louis in four rounds back in 1935 and who has nothing to recommend him as a fighter except a fair right hand punch. However, the victory over Galento made the Baer a big part of the heavy weight picture, and the promoters started shoving the bait at him.

Uncle Mike Jacobs suggested that the Baer pay up all his life insurance premiums, make his will and get into the ring with Louis again.

A slight shudder is said to have run over the Baer's frame, but he finally agreed to take this suicidal step provided Uncle Mike would guarantee him $50,000, win, lose or draw. Whereupon a tremendous shudder ran over Uncle Mike's frame and he fled from the scene screaming that not even Louis demanded a $50,000 guarantee and who did the Baer think he was anyway.

So that one fell through and then Prof. Kearns stepped in. Today or tomorrow ought to tell whether the Baer comes east where both Louis and Comiskey have declared that it is open season on him.

Prof. Kearns could use a good profitable fight right now. Things are not breaking so well for him, and that is bad for a man who cultivated champagne and caviar tastes when he was in the chips. He hasn't had much chance to exercise those tastes since he picked up a crude, raw heavyweight who was right hand crazy. The professor taught the heavyweight how to throw a punch with his left and for several years they did all right. The guy was Jack Dempsey.

How Nazis are Expected to Invade Britain

This map shows the course military strategists believe the Nazis will follow in their attempted conquest of Britain. Mass attacks on the south and southeast coast (see bomb bursts) are regarded as a feint, since landing of a force sufficient to march on London would be almost impossible on that rocky coast. From the North Sea ports in Nazi-held Holland and Belgium, however, the road to Britain's Midlands offers flat territory much more accessible to an invading force. From there the Nazis, once entrenched, could march on London, perhaps split the island in two.

"PROPER ATTITUDE" FOUND TO BE ESSENTIAL IN MAKE-UP OF GOOD DRIVER, SAYS MOTOR VEHICLE HEAD

SACRAMENTO—Knowing how to drive a motor vehicle safely is not all there is to being a good driver. The proper attitude toward traffic laws and toward the rights of others is essential in developing general highway safety.

This is the opinion of James M. Carter, director of motor vehicles, who daily reviews data and information relative to California's motor vehicle troubles. Through this department passes all reports of accidents, injuries and deaths and from these reports steps are taken to lower the annual toll.

"Naturally we believe enforcement and engineering are essential in any program to stop traffic accidents," Carter says. "However, there is the other important 'E' of education and it is through education that we attempt to improve the attitudes of drivers. Particularly do we stress juvenile training through the schools and in this connection we are getting more and more cooperation each year.

"Scientific tests will show us the physical reaction of a driver in time of emergency and mental tests will reveal the knowledge of the traffic laws. But no machine or examination will reveal the full mental attitude of the driver toward the question of safety. We want drivers to know the rules and to be able to react quickly in case of emergency, but we want them to react properly and to interpret the rules properly. The fact that a person can react in a record space of time does not help the cause of safety if that reaction is not followed by the proper actions. All of which means that drivers must learn that they have no exclusive rights to the highways and must drive toward others as they would have others drive toward them."

BAER TO FIGHT COMISKEY FOR JACK KEARNS SEPT. 23

NEW YORK, (UP)—Jack Kearns, former manager of heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey, today had signed the most important prize-fight staged by an independent promoter since Mike Jacobs began his fistic monopoly almost six years ago with a match between Maxie Baer of Sacramento and Pat Comiskey of Paterson, N. J.

Kearns who has been negotiating for the bout for more than a week, said that Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, had agreed to a guarantee with the privilege of taking 30 per cent of the net gate should that figure exceed the guaranteed sum. The bout will be held in the Jersey City, N. J., ballpark the week of Sept. 23.

"BEYOND TOMORROW" OFFERS UNUSUAL ENTERTAINMENT FOR FILM FANS

"Beyond Tomorrow" which opens tonight at the Empire Theatre, for a two-day showing is a film that is different, unusual, filled with tense situation and entertainment. This picture is one that will linger long in the memory of those who are privileged to see it.

Charles Winninger has never done a better piece of acting. Richard Carlson, in the role of a young Texan who is the heart interest of Jean Parker and Helen Vinson, gives the best performance of his promising young career. Jean Parker, equals her famous work in "Sequoia." Miss Vinson, in the role of "the other woman," is faultless. And C. Aubrey Smith and Harry Carey, as two partners of Winninger, and Maria Ouspenskaya, give characterizations of great distinction.

The story deals with three partners. Winninger, Smith and Carey, in an engineering firm, who lead a rather dull life until they meet Miss Parker and Carlson. Miss Parker is a worker in a children's clinic in New York. Carlson is a young Texan in New York working for a stake to get back home.

The elderly men's point of view on life starts changing as soon as they come in contact with the young couple. They call in street players and sing Christmas songs. They play with the children in the clinic. They go bowling with Jean and Carlson. But their new found joy ends when they are killed in an airplane crash.

But Winninger, before starting on the trip had left $10,000 worth of bonds for the young couple, who now have become engaged. Newspapers learn of the bequest. There is publicity that results in Carlson going on the radio where he becomes a sensation overnight with his magnificent baritone voice. And from that success come difficulties, for he is signed to play in a Broadway show opposite Helen Vinson, who plays the role of a selfish, beautiful musical comedy star. Miss Vinson wants Carlson for herself, and complications develop.

How the spirits of the three men come back to their home and plan ways and means of saving Carlson from falling for the wiles of Miss Vinson makes for the remarkable ending of this unusual picture.

Placerville, Jackie Bryan of west Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Truscott of El Dorado, Sally and James Truscott, Mrs. F. J. Bryan, J. H. Bryan and the honored guests, T. Bryan and F. J. Bryan. A lovely banquet was served to the guests by Mrs. Truscott and Mrs. Bryan.

Mrs. Charles Sackett has gone to a Sacramento hospital for a tonsil operation.

Mr. Bidstrup and family have recently moved into their new home in El Dorado.

As Destination Nearer

The Duke of Windsor, who gave up the British throne for "the woman I love," the former Wallis Warfield, of Baltimore, Md., is shown with his Duchess aboard the Excalibur as they crossed the Atlantic from Portugal to Bermuda. They were enroute to the Duke's Nassau post as governor of the Bahamas.

Ah! Fricassee

By BETSY NEWMAN

FRICASSEE of chicken is always palatable, and the housewife can use a cheaper bird if she decides to give it the long cooking used in fricasseeing.

Today's Menu

Fricassee of Chicken
Mashed Potatoes or Boiled Rice
Sweet Corn Popovers
Lettuce Salad
Huckleberry Roll Foamy Sauce
Coffee

Fricassee of Chicken

Cut fowl up or have the butcher cut it up for you. Cover with cold water to which you have added 1 onion, 1 stalk of celery, 6 peppercorns. Cook slowly until chicken is very tender. Take meat from liquor, strain liquor and thicken with 2 tablespoons (or more) flour, season with salt and pepper and serve with chicken.

Popovers

2 eggs 1 cup milk
1 cup flour 1/2 tsp. salt
Beat eggs, add salt, then milk and sifted flour alternately until smooth batter is formed. Pour into hissing hot muffin pans and bake for about 30 minutes in hot (400 degree) oven.

Huckleberry Roll

2 cups flour 1 tbslp. sugar
2 tsp. baking 1 tsp. salt powder Milk to make
4 tbslp. short- dough

Sift flour with dry ingredients, add butter and work thoroughly through mixture. Add enough milk to make a soft dough, roll out 1/2 inch thin, spread with washed and drained huckleberries, sprinkle with sugar and a little nutmeg, roll like jelly roll and bake in moderate oven.

A license to wed was reported as issued at Sacramento Tuesday to Robert L. Utley, Jr., of Placerville, and Wanda R. Hillman, of Sacramento.
